Mr. Settle-Ties Up the Intruder and Turns Him Over to Police.

Arthus Settle is sixty years old, but he doesn't look it and he doesn't feel it. He had had breakfast this morning and returned to his room in the Central Hotel, No. 169 East Fourteenth street, on the corner of Third avenue, to get a handkerchief he had forgotten before going downtown to business. He noticed the door was open, though he remembered having closed it, and so peered into the room before entering.

He mw a husky youth cooly exam ing the contents of the pockets of some clothes. Mr. Settle could have called for help but it never occurred to him. Instead he stepped into the room and in response to the highly favorable planted a right swing on the young outcome of New York State bond sale man's jaw. Then he bewildered him with a storm of right and left hand joits which finally left the youth breathless and almost out on the floor.

The gray-haired Mr. Settle stripped the clothes from the bed and bound his prisoner in them tying some of the knots so tightly that he stopped the circulation in his victim's arms and the near future. Union Pacific opened legs. He laid him on the bed, closed 1-8 up, and Reading 1-4 down. The legs. He laid him on the bed, closed the door on him and walked down to the street where Detective Fremer of the East Twenty-second street station who Mr. Settle knew, chanced to be passing.

Fremen took the man to the station, where, the detective says, he found a dozen new keys, several lockpicks and a device for turning a key from the wrong side of the door in his pocket. He also had $5, and Mr. Settle said this was just about the sum he had left in a suit of clothes over a chair in his room. ver a chair in his room.

Pittsburgh Coal issues were strong, the common selling up to 21% and the preferred to 89% in response to plans of the management to pay back dividends.

Trading was active during the balance of the morning and the general market kept strong, but business was mostly in the low priced issues and price changes in the usually active stocks were within narrow limits. There was a rapid rise in Texas Company stock of 5 points, to 147, on rumors of increased dividend.

Railway steel springs came to life and gained 13-4, to 301-4.

Ex-Senator Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois was reported by New York morning newspapers to-day to be dysetts avenue, N. W., Washington setts avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. The Evening World called the Culloh home by long distance telephone and talked with Mr. Cullom's secretary, who said:

"Mr. Cullom may die at almost any time, but may live for days. It would be impossible to predict the time of the end. He is eighty-four years old and has suffered a complete physical breakdown, due to age, but has no illness, save an affection of the heart, which at times accelerates the action of that organ and causes him considerable distress. He has been in bed since two weeks ago Monday.

"Night before last it was feared he would expire before morning, but instead he improved and has been a good deal better ever since. This morning he are a hearty breakfast. He is able to converse and his mind is clear, except when he has the attacks of accelerated heart action.

"With him are his sister-in-law, Miss Victoria Fisher, who is a sister of the late Mrs. Cullom, and his sonin-law, former Comptroller of the Currency Ridgely. Mr. Cullom's children are dead."
